UNIVERSAL APPEAL

From elegant weddings and large corporate functions to top political party conventions, Sandone Productions has covered some of the nation's most spectacular events.

Established in 1988, Sandone Productions is an industry innovator in the development, manufacturing and design of tents and awning. This enables Sandone Productions to make available the most functional tent structures and awnings in the market. With accessories to customize your experience, Sandone Productions is your source for Variety, Value and Service for all your outdoor events.

Ultra-Span® is a prime example of Sandone Productions leadership in the development in aluminum frame manufacturing. A simple but effective design element, Ultra-Span® is free of interior obstructions while still providing durable quality and maximum strength. This design allows for the greatest utilization of interior space.

Sandone Productions will continue with its rapid innovation and scientific advancement of its newly developed tent and awning products. This will ensure the progression of the company for the national market as it moves ahead confidently in the 21st century.
